Foundation May Receive McVey Scholarship Fund

Fund Established For Deserving Women Students

A proposal has been made that the funds to be raised for the Frances Jewell McVey scholarship fund be given to the Kentucky Research Foundation. This proposition was considered at a meeting with Dr. H. L. Donovan, University president, of the committee composed of C. N. Manning, Col. Samuel M. Wilson and Frank B. Jones.

The Frances Jewell McVey committee will hold a meeting at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the director's room of the Security Trust company for the purpose of appointing delegates to meet with the Kentucky Research Foundation in its organization meeting. The newly-formed foundation has been set up to receive the funds.

The fund will award loans, grants, and scholarships to deserving women students at the University. Plans will be outlined at the Tuesday meeting to raise the money. The fund is to be in memory and honor of Frances Jewell McVey, former dean of women and wife of Dr. Frank L. McVey, president emeritus of the University.

The fund is becoming quite popular and the members of the committee have received many calls of encouragement since the announcement first appeared.

The general committee is composed of Frank B. Jones, Col. Samuel M. Wilson, C. N. Manning, James Park, Tom R. Underwood, Mrs. Preston Johnson and Mrs. Cecil Cantrill.

Friends of Andrew Eckdahl, former Kernelite, will be interested to know that his picture appeared in the Life magazine issue of June 4. He is located in the center of the photograph which shows the Iraq delegation to the San Francisco conference dining in Omar Khayyam's restaurant. The story itself concerns the restaurant and its chef, George Mardikian.

Change In Time

Campus Kernels, University news and feature program broadcast over WLAP, will be heard in the future at 10:30 p.m. on Mondays, rather than at 10:15 p.m.

Kampus Kernels

Noonday prayer meeting . . . is being held at 12:30 daily in Room 205 of the Union.

Vespers . . . followed by prayer meeting and bowling will be held on the balcony of the Union at 6:30 Wednesday.

YMCA-YWCA . . . will entertain with a picnic at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Donovan Tea . . . will be given in honor of the colleges of law and education from 4 to 6 p.m., Thursday, July 5.

Social dancing . . . will be held every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 6 to 8 p.m. in the men's gymnasium. All students and soldiers are invited.

Holiday

Wednesday, July 4 will be a holiday at the University. All offices will be closed and all classes will be dismissed except the Army Specialized Training classes. Dr. Donovan stated that he regretted that he did not have the authority to adjourn them but that the Army dismisses only on Christmas Day. Classes will resume at the first class period on Thursday, July 5 and all students are expected to be in attendance.

Thirty Make 3. Standing

Thirty students made perfect standings during the spring quarter, in the College of Arts and Sciences, according to an announcement from Dean Paul P. Boyd's office. Of these 30, 11 were seniors, 10 juniors, 3 sophomores and 6 freshmen.

The students are:

Seniors: Martha Jane Allen, Lexington; Virginia Stuart Baskett, Casper, Wyo.; Jean Shirley Crabb, Rowletts; Betty Lee Fleishman, Lexington; Phyllis Renna Freed, Passaic, N. J.; Thomas Marshall Hahn, Lexington; Richard Henry Hunt, Lexington; Helen Porter Lipscomb, Lexington; Ada Vaughn Newland, Stanford; Ellen Lucille O'Bannon, Lexington; and Charley Juanita Shearer, Lexington.

Juniors: Richard Don Baker, Somerset; Wilma Jeanne Canada, Williamson, W. Va.; Betty Anne Ginocchio, Lexington; Mary Bennett LaMaster, Lexington; Martha Elizabeth Pruitt, Henderson; Jean Ruth Ritchie, Viper; Doris Talbott Smith, Lexington; Nancy Fillmore Toll, Lawrenceburg; Janet Wallingford, Fort Mitchell; and Betty Louise Walsh, Cynthiana.

Sophomores: Joann Evans Gorham, Lexington; Margaret Lee Skinner, Lexington; and Martha Lawrence Yates, Lexington.

Fireworks Display To Be On Stall Field

The first fireworks display in Lexington since the beginning of the war will be a part of an all-day celebration July 4 honoring ex-service men and women of Fayette county. The display will be held at Stall Field on the night of the Fourth, following a parade from downtown Lexington to the field.

Griffin Speaks

Lt. Col. Gerald Griffin, former instructor in journalism at the University and head of the Lexington bureau of the Louisville Courier-Journal, was the principal speaker at the annual Journalism Day for the School of Journalism at West Virginia University, according to news received here this week. His topic was "Adventures of a Legman."

Joyland Park Proclaims UK Day Tuesday, July 10

Joyland Park will play host to the University faculty, staff, and students on July 10, a day which has been designated as UK Day. On this day everything will be planned, centered around, and opened to the University personnel.

The swimming pool and joy-rides will operate at half-price on UK Day, and the park officials are planning to open the casino for a dance in the evening, for which there will be no charge. Music will be furnished by the Joyland orchestra.

There will be special events throughout the day, which will be announced later, Hal Hackett, promotion manager, said.

A booth will be set up in the Union building on July 7, 9, and 10, where those wishing to attend will be given identification cards.

Several campus organizations are planning to make a day of it when classes are over, and have announced picnics for members and friends.

Paul H. Latimer Is Awarded Bronze Star Medal

Cpl. Paul H. Latimer, son of Dr. C. G. Latimer, professor of mathematics, and Mrs. Latimer, 1112 Fontaine road, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal, according to a message received here last week.

Corporal Latimer, a civilian student at the University in the summer of 1943 and later a member of the ASTRP for two quarters at the University, was honored as the result of an action that occurred on April 26 during the 65th Division's advance on the city of Regensburg, Germany. A radio operator, Corporal Latimer was proceeding with forward elements of Company K when enemy machine-gun fire suddenly opened up on the company. He found it necessary to assemble his radio quickly while in full view of the enemy. Nevertheless, he collected several of the elements of the radio together, erected the antenna and continued to remain in an exposed position while he transmitted fire commands to his artillery unit.

The official citation closed with "His devotion to duty and utter disregard for his own safety in transmitting the vitally important fire commands to the artillery, resulted in the neutralizing of enemy fire."

Dr. Lea Eddleman Will Be Speaker For Youth Week

Dr. Leo Eddleman, a former missionary to Palestine and pastor of the Parkland Baptist church in Louisville, will be the guest minister for the city-wide Baptist Youth week to begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Immanuel Baptist church.

University students are especially urged to work with the well known youth leader, Othar Smith, Baptist student secretary declares.

Services each evening will be followed by a fellowship hour sponsored by the other Baptist churches of the city.

Army Air Force Show Will Be Given Friday

Personnel Includes Former Instructors

Local educators will have an opportunity to see the latest developments in the Army's program of streamlined educational efficiency when the Educational Demonstrational Unit of the Army Air Forces presents its program at 1 p.m. today at the Armory.

The personnel of the unit is composed of former civilian instructors who have been engaged in the AAF wartime program of training three and one-half million specialists. The unique teaching devices and training methods, developed from this wartime experience, are now being presented to the civilian educators of the nation.

The outstanding feature of the demonstration is the typical model AAF teaching lesson with which the program opens. By means of mechanical "mock-up" devices, it illustrates for academic classroom teachers the Army's colorful, concrete method of presenting the abstract scientific principles taught in the standard civilian school courses.

Information will be given which will enable civilian schools to procure certain AAF equipment on a cost-free basis, and educators will be shown the most economical and efficient methods of putting this equipment to its maximum educational use.

The greatest educational benefit will be derived from this program by superintendents, principals, department heads, supervisors, key teachers, science teachers, instructors in vocational and industrial arts, representatives of boards of education and outstanding civic leaders.

Case Submitted To Judge Ardery

Circuit Judge W. B. Ardery has taken over the declaratory judgment of the test case concerning clearance of gifts to the University through the state treasury. A decision in the case is not expected until about September 1.

By Shirley Meister

Question: What would you like to do the Fourth of July?

Margaret Hollyfield, Ag., senior: Sit out in the backyard and eat watermelon.

Pvt. Leonard Kaminski, AST: Have the whole day off.

Helen Donovan, Ag., senior: Take a good long ride in a convertible.

Pvt. Lee Stein, AST: Sit under a nice shady tree.

Roger L. Wilson, Ed., Grad. student: Go fishing all day long.

Dave Newman, Eng., freshman: Lie on the beach of Lake Erie and bake.

James Lichenor, Ed., Grad. student: Go home and play golf.

Dick Watters, Ed., Grad. student: Find just one beautiful UK coed. Then take her out to see Man 'o War.

Marle Kemper, Eng., junior: Go to New Mexico to see Dick.

Mac Pewitt, A&S, sophomore: Just have one big time—such as looking at the moon.

Lt. William Hopewell

Lt. Hopewell Dies In Action

Lt. William Hopewell was killed in action on Okinawa on May 29, according to word received by The Kernel Tuesday. He was on leave as assistant to the director of student publications at the University.

Lieutenant Hopewell came here from Providence, and graduated from the University in 1940. He made his way through school by working as a printer and linotype operator.

He was graduated as a journalism major and in his senior year, he became assistant to the director of student publications and was also student foreman of The Kernel. A member of Delta Tau Delta, social fraternity, and Delta Sigma Chi, journalism fraternity, Lieutenant Hopewell graduated from the advanced ROTC course and held the reserve commission of second lieutenant. He was called into the Army in 1942 and took part in the Leyte and Guam campaigns before going to Okinawa.

His wife, the former Dorothy Stiles, of Stiles, Ky. also a University graduate is now at Waterboro, S. C.

Valuable Articles Taken From KD's

On Friday night, the Kappa Delta sorority house at 271 Kalmia avenue was entered and articles valued at approximately a thousand dollars were stolen.

The house was entered by cutting the screen of the bathroom window, and police feel that because of the large amount taken, several persons probably participated in the robbery.

Jerry Gooch lost her entire wardrobe while seven other members of the sorority reported losses. Three radios, a billfold, a jewel case, two suitcases, sheets, towels, pillow cases, a dressing case and numerous other articles were taken.

None of the articles have been recovered.

Reeves Seeks Degree

Prof. J. E. Reeves, of the political science department, left yesterday for Columbia University in New York, where he will spend the summer working on his Ph.D.

Sur-Meis-ing

By Shirley Meister

If you're going swimming the 4th let us remind you to take along both a bottle of olive oil and a bottle of sun tan lotion. In spite of the fact that we drowned ourselves in olive oil last weekend, our face, shoulders, and back were the prettiest color imaginable. As we walked through the bookstore an AST asked his friend if scarlet face powder was the latest shade worn by University coeds.

We know of one University student who got to see General Eisenhower last week. Dee Singleton was in Washington visiting "a friend" of hers and got to see the nation's hero when he landed.

Remark of the week (borrowed from one of our professors). Modern women don't know how to walk, they wear too much rouge, and instead of sighing they hiccup.

Here are some definitions we didn't learn in class: Man—creation's masterpiece—so says man. Neighbor—a person who borrows things. News—the same old thing, only happening to different people. Informal party—a gathering at which you wear your own clothes.

TO E. S. C.

Pine on the fire, sparkling and flowing,
Flicking the shadows, mirthfully dancing.
Sings of her presence, glowing and spicy,
Signs of her, shouts of her laughter and fame.

Clock on the mantle, ticking and ticking,
Once struck her hours of sorrow and gloom.
Throbed with her hours of aching and sadness,
Ticked off her minutes of gladness and love.

Snow on the pine trees, delicate, falling,
Dazzling, glittering, whirling, so white,
Speaks of her gently, whispering her loveliness.
Softly, speaks softly, so quiet, so white.

—BARBARA FISHER.

Duke: "Ge! Ain't it awful? I daughter on young man's lap): Myra! What does this mean?

Nice Little Girl: Come back in about fifteen minutes, Dad. I ought to know by then.

The Salt Shaker

By Billie Fischer

In our discussion of "The Picture of Dorian Gray" last week, we forgot to mention the song "Good-bye Little Yellow Bird," which seems to be the most memorable part of the picture. We know the last verse, but we'd give anything to know the first one. In fact, we'll give a cigarette to anyone who will teach us the first part. On second thought, we'll give the second part plus the words to "Dirty Gertie from Bizerte" to anyone who will give us a gas stamp.

Oscar Wilde is still our hero of the week with his definition of vulgarity as "simply the conduct of other people."

It is interesting to note the choice of a sculptress who was asked to pick the ten handsomest men in the U. S. for a certain magazine. She chose Frederic March, Philip Merivale, Raymond Massey, Cary Grant, Gary Cooper, Gen. Mark Clark, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Paul McNutt, Adm. Richard Byrd, and Gregor Platigorsky.

As we see it, the only selection in no need of a defense is Paul McNutt. As for the others—

The saddest story of the week deals with a friend's sister, who interviewed Sonny Tufts last week.

Unfortunately, the first question she asked was, "Are you married?" It was unfortunate because the girl's mind went completely blank when Tufts answered in the affirmative. And that ended the interview.

Excellent Rating Awarded ROTC

A rating of "excellent" for the 1944-45 school year has been awarded the University R.O.T.C. unit, President H. L. Donovan was informed by Maj. Gen. James L. Collins, commanding general of the Army Fifth Service Command headquarters at Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

The award was made following the recent annual inspection.

Book To Emphasize Post-War Courses

The new University publication, Your Place in the Post War World, recently sent to press, will emphasize the importance of University courses, offered after the war, built upon war-born discoveries and inventions. The increased interest in medical technology, due to new discoveries in medicine; in engineering, due to new methods and machines; in all departments, due to some discovery in the field during the war—all this is shown pictorially in the new student publication.

YMCA-YWCA Sponsor Picnic

The YMCA and YWCA will sponsor a free picnic Tuesday afternoon at Castlewood for all students and soldiers. The group will leave from the Union at 5:30.

The Lowe-Down

By Dick Lowe

Spring football practice rolled into its second week with a full dress rehearsal. Two teams lined up against each other, playing with all the roughness shown in a regular seasons game. When the teams played, that meant only 22 men on the field leaving about 40 on the sidelines. These 40 waited for the call from the coaches to get in there and show them that they could play just a little better. The heat which has been terrific, has melted away most of the extra weight that tends to slow the boys up.

Several of the boys have met with accidents and had to lay off a few days to recover. Bob McDonough of Cincinnati, is in the infirmary with a broken leg. He was playing right tackle when the leg was broken. Wash Serini mashed his nose but is back on the field. Hugh Shannon had to leave the field Wednesday when his left knee, the one that gave him so much trouble last season, went bad again. "Skip" Cavalle is watching the team play from the sidelines, resting his left leg that was hurt the first part of the week.

There are about seven returned veterans on the squad. Serini and Henry Paul played last season and find it easy to get into shape again. The other boys find it a little tougher to compete with the fellows who played last year whether it was high school or college football. Charles Gardner and Ed Hale were in school here last year but this is their first try out for the team. Glass, Yuntz, others who have seen service in some branch of the armed forces.

Ray Heffington, served two years with the Army and this is his first year at college. He was All-State fullback in 1941 and should prove valuable to the team. When he left Sturgis to come to Lexington he weighed 195 but is slowly getting into shape as the stiff practices have cut him down to 182. He claimed that the toughest thing about going to school after being in the Army was settling down to studying. The worst part about football was getting back into shape after such a long lay-off.

The team has about three more weeks of practice and then will be given a short vacation. Most of the fellows are going home and just rest until the regular season begins.

There had been a train wreck and one of two English teachers found himself slipping from this life. "Good-bye time," he groaned to his friend. "I'm done for."

"Don't say that old man," sputtered the friend. "For heavensake don't say that. Don't end your last sentence with a preposition."

Lumber For Candy

When the Army shipped Corp. Perry S. Wolff to Europe, the 22-year-old Chicagoan didn't expect to get a lumberyard in exchange for one American candy bar. But he did.

Wandering into the lumberyard, somewhere in Belgium, Wolff found the owner fed up with the war, the Nazis, and other troubles. So, for one candy bar, he traded six acres piled five feet high with lumber.

"It's legal," Wolff wrote home. "I paid for it with the candy bar, scratched out his name on the yard sign, and wrote in my own. Now, if somebody would give me a ship to take the lumber home, I could start my postwar home."

—Pathfinder

Betty: Hey, there, you just gave me a nasty look.

Pat: So did nature!
